"Handle With Care" is a phrase that can nowhere be seen in his lexicon. The holy ash on his forehead and his unassuming nature has won the hearts of many a Bitsian - girls and guys, in that order. And when it comes to acads, he has a natural ability to crack tests effortlessly. An active member of the Ragamalika, this guy also has the rare distinction of a Computer Science dual with Mechanical Engineering. This versatile and loveable person plans to make a career in 'Networking'.

This 'ghotu god' is destined to pass out with a distinction, the solitary one from our wing to get that rare honour. An athlete par excellence, his fast receding hairline is often the butt of jokes for all friends. This hardcore and dedicated member of Rec n Acc is also very regular to classes. His C6 dual will ensure an additional year of ghot in BITS. We wish him a great and successful career.

Handsome and spry, frivolous and frolicsome...adjectives fall short... His hard work added a C6 in his ID. Burner of midnight oil, his powerprep spans only one night. Getting himself involved in all activities (Hrep-BG, Security co-ord and what not), he loves dancing, travelling, watching movies (all types...) and more importantly cricket. Loved by one and all, this resourceful person helps everyone. His aim in life? "Rise to the Sheikh of Dubai!"

Change is the only thing that's been permanent in his life. Though a Mechanical student he utilized his "Managerial" & "Physical" capabilities to hitch on to the Infosys band-wagon. For him mornings are an enigma, afternoons a rarity & the day break at dusk. His emotional outbursts are a reminder of the latest superhits. This self proclaimed guy of sorrow is a natural leader [PEP COSTAAn]. Never one to care about day to day trivia, his "I know it all" attitude embodies his assertive self.

If there was a saying "Jack of all trades and master of all", this guy from Nashik would be the best person to fit the bill. An outstanding mechite that no doubt he is, his great application power, sheer intelligence and immense knowledge in Electronics and Computers has left many in these fields aghast. A determined and focussed person, he led his department (PCr) team from the front and made BOSM one of the most successful sports event in BITS. A charming voice which reflects his love for music and beautiful handwriting has been his strength. Getting to his softer side, he has a phobia of apples (the reason that he gives for it is that he has special admiration for a "Doctor").

"Speech is silver, but silence-golden" goes the popular adage. This silent killer of the wing is personified by his steadfast calmness and cool attitude. His composure at all times is quite exemplary. A regular to classes, he is the sort not to tread into things not concerning him. He is one amongst the very few who follows all the characteristics of an ideal student to the book. A perfect friend at all times, this guy wishes to do his Masters in a reputed institution.

"Nothing is impossible for a willing heart". Einstein said it but Phani proves it. Many things about this guy are not known to people; highly sentimental, strong beliefs, 'hidden' artist and much more. Despite being a master of chess, he's a hardcore fan of cricket also. Confused about what to become, he stuck both Hritik and Sachin's posters in his room. His hard work, ready to help and eager to learn nature have impressed CDC instructors also. This perfect guy however can't digest failures easily. His ambitions are sure high but secret. No doubt he will achieve them.

This otherwise handsome guy has one of the least photogenic faces on Earth. The weirdness of his expressions would make him a successful horror film star. This daydreamer believes (unfortunately) that he is very creative. His interests include photography, photography and photography. His weakness for chocolates and "chocolate lovers" makes his "blood pump" very vulnerable. Jokes apart, he is a very fun loving, intelligent, creative and hard working person who plans to pursue higher studies and a career in Robotics.

This work"aholic" for a change is seldom work minded. That a human body has 206 bones is quite evident from this "bonesbond", but to one's greatest astonishment, he was operated upon for excess fat. His day usually kick-starts at noon and ends at dawn. He is a notorious braggart as far as his so called dramatised affair with a "Reddy" girl is concerned. Enthusiastic and ever friendly, this guy dreams to settle in the U.S, of course with all his girl friends.

This Gemini gained his Bitsian name, from his not so legal activities in the IPC. He often surprises many by his abrupt changes of hairstyle (or even the lack of it). If chatting were cricket, he would have bowled many a 'maiden' over. A happy go lucky person he finds sanctimony in software programming and music (pumping hard rock). To say it in so many words, this guy's characteristic walk would give any supermodel a run for his/her money.

This peculiar guy who's a pseudo CompSciite is popularly known as JAVA Chat in the wing. This pied-piper is a big 'buffer'...He can even make you believe the unbelievable. He would harass his wingies by playing sick folk songs. He hoped to get PR No.1 but always ended up in DTC cases. He is an occasional master blaster in cricket and a diehard fan of Chris Cairns. Though reticent, he can enlighten any discussion with his glib smart talks supporting them with facts from his vast GB of memory. His hobbies include watching all sorts of games (???) and reading all sorts of magazines.

One more source of heat in this galaxy of ghoters. Entering his stellar domain will scorch you. This very bad writer is often identified by his unusual tone and conspicuous sneezes. A born ghotu he'll never miss a class no matter what (there were instances where he attended classes without even brushing teeth!). Rotten to the core EPC member, he has a mag called Horse Power (What a stroke!) to spoil. He's extremely helpful, naive, smart and friendly with a bewitching smile. Face is not the index of mind... This is apt in case of AMARNATH POTLAPATI who is dearly called Amar. He is more at times the mass (in Telugu) guy of the wing but when it comes to acads, he generally cracks tests out of shape and has eventually evolved as one of the Mech toppers. 13 might be unlucky for many but this guy dances at the very tune of it (for known reasons!). His notes serve as virtual instructor to many. Shane Warne of the wing, he is known as 'spin mantrik'... This guy loves dancing, Rehman's music and is fascinated by cars.

"Mrr" as he is fondly called in the wing is the early bird of the wing sometimes up and about as early as 4 am. He started his Bitsian test career with a poor gpa rate but has since toned up his performances, thereby moving to elitist territory. Listening to old Gult and Hindi melodies is his favourite pass time. Always concerned about the welfare of others (gate crashing promptly in every discussion in any room), he is effortlessly self-centred when it comes to a few select things (?). We need to employ innumerable words to name the different activities in which she gets engaged in. This treasurer of Andhra Samiti took a very remarkable and active part in all its programs. Pet named "papa", she has a special liking for chocolates and soft toys. This charming, enthusiastic girl can lend a helping hand anytime. This warm hearted kutti girl has set her goals to great heights. She hopes to see herself as an eminent "Mechanical Engineer" and of course a software professional's wife.

An avid sweet lover, this guy is very conscious about his health, weight and nourishment. When he's at your doorstep you know its time for mess. A very enthusiastic person (when you're not discussing acads, games, music,...), he revels in his ability to hog. A light sleeper though, he hoots when awoken. Jokes apart, this well read man keeps track of all worldly affairs and can make the best debater surrender in front of his vast ocean of knowledge. This easy going chap, coupled with his overwhelming curiosity makes good company. "Boy! Was that a statement of fact?"

This "Sanyasi" attained NIRVANA, only to declare his D-mate (Batch of 1998) to be a Greek Goddess. Towards the "fag" end of his BITSian life, his dancing at 0200 hrs in the wing to the tunes of Strauss in a Zamindari outfit left many bam"booz"led. This consummate orator and writer has been involved with EPC (Jt. Sec), CF (Editor-2001), Moruchhaya (Sec) and BITS Senate (student member), besides doing justice to his academics. He is all set to take the world of management by storm.

This Mech God has a strong attraction towards "Information Systems", partially due to academic reasons. Conscious about his looks, Arrvind strives for perfection in every task that he undertakes. He often cracks brilliant jokes which only he finds humorous. This loveable and extremely talented person is all set to scale great heights.

This Libran is a typical "BOB"...not brain of bits but the BULB OF BITS. She is known for her regular attendance, not that she is sincere but just that she finds it the best place to doze. She is a better known as "pickle padma" after serving in the PTM grub. We must say that the mime club surely did this fantastic mimic a world of good for she is very skilful in imitating starting from the film stars to our Bitsian Profs. She loves singing (as she claims it to be) and dancing, and her favourite hobby is decking up. This Mech MB rep is planning to pursue her higher studies in Management.

Confused? Unable to decide what career to choose? Just spend some time with this guy and you will be absolutely clear. Sathak, as he is called, is the career counsellor of the wing. A born Athlete, Sundar has the ability to lift your spirits when you are down in the dumps. One of the most familiar faces on campus, this guy, no doubt, is magnetic and draws everybody's attention, especially those of the fairer sex. In a nutshell, Sundar is a perfect blend of sensitiveness, fierce concentration and a "Never-Say-die" attitude.

"Hey, Hey!" and here he comes, wielding the haunted towel after a sweaty session of physical exercise. The Taurian is a perfect Libra of drama, dance and acads. Matched by his aptitude for slumber, undaunted by his efforts going up in smoke, his aristocratic spirits stand him in good stead. His ever-receding hairline mirrors our own inner reflections. For every guy who "mess"ed up his weight in BITS, this guy makes up for the MESS. His analytical thinking and answers leave everyone dumbfounded (can you believe it?). His motto of "Live life for the moment" was apparent when he decided that reliving (?) was more important than the final exams. Though poles apart, even Polar bears have something in common with him ("Hibernation"). If you really want to know what 'Power' means, have a look at his vision. His confidence, warmth and affable nature have gained him a lot of friends. When others say they can, he says he will and proves it as well. "Appearances are often deceptive"- this is best proven by her. Though grave for looks, you will hardly find her taking things seriously. When you look at this guy, you realize with a sprain in your neck that size does matter! At 6ft 3, he manages to overlook most of the trivial aspects in life. The thoroughly meticulous person that he is, he never needs time to wait for him; in fact, it's always the other way round. Starting from badminton (he was the team captain) to cricket to volleyball, he can play them all. This Libran was the angry young man of BITS until about a year ago when he fell victim to the conspiracies of a certain individual from Venus! The spell remains unbroken and the two of them are still exploring the depths of the rabbit hole, with a staunch belief that wonderland isn't too far away..
