Gods are crazy. Arthi was born a girl. Her years in BITS have brought in a great transformation especially in her attitude towards guys. This brave girl fights every insect species into extinction. She proudly proclaims herself to be very unique. She praises herself to be the grand daughter of a great singer and makes lot of unsuccessful attempts to imitate him. Her knowledge and craze for films and T.V is really astonishing. She can manage to sit in front of the T.V for days together, imagine Arthi crouching on the dirty common room chair and gaping eternally at the T.V. Last but not the least, she is a very comfortable companion to be with and gets attached to all very easily. Her aspiration is to become a successful business person.

Her initials would make one to spontaneously think if she was a born G.K. stud! Her bright and pious- looking face might deceive you to think she is timid. But she can stay up to see the Sun rise, work through the day and see the rays of the next days' sun too if she wants to get her work done. But that doesn't mean this active Bioscite is unfair to sleep. She divides equally between all her activities. She is one of those rarest individuals who are highly respectful even to their immediate seniors. Her calm- looking face with an enchanting smile, hides all her naughtiness and quick- witted behaviour. If you are with her, you should be careful not to laugh at the jokes she cracks on the others present there, as you might be the next target. She dreams of achieving big things in life and her family is her ultimate love.

'Just A Smile!' - How it does all that magic for her! She has been raising funds for the cash-stricken Telephone department by getting calls from Pilani to Paris. Ms. Slender Legs has complaints of excessive happiness and with her "coimbaTORE" Anglais- accent and her soft-sweet-talk, she impresses anybody. But, beneath all this lies a smart, organised and responsible Ms. sensible & practical, a talented artist, a classical dancer, a wonderful writer and the Goddess of creativity. A hard core '$'ponzite, she is the student-representative of the Instruction-division. This woman of substance is confident that she is sure to go places because she's different or maybe just because she's Lakshmi Priya.

This fun loving chap has the ability to keep everyone around him in high spirits with his notorious jokes. This State player in cricket has the distinction of getting out for "duck" in crunch situations. Always found in a dizzy state, this trait of his, landed him in the hospital during his P.S I after colliding with a trolley! This self-proclaimed atheist seems to worship only goddess "laksmi" these days! This west mambalam Iyengar who had recited nothing but vedas during his school days claims to be a "Hard Core" rocker after coming to Bits! Jokes apart, this computer games savvy, is all set to pursue his carrier in.

Good things come in small packages. This short 'n' sweet chap is a perfect example for this. Better known as "Arnold" to his wingies though his physique bears no resemblance to this name, he is found to have an affinity for the letter "S" - an affinity from "one S to another S". This supposedly "cho chweet" Bio-sci. coord, through his inspiring (!) leadership has changed the loyalty of a certain DOPY'ite towards assoc. work. All said 'n' done, this smart, sincere (S again) chap is sure to scale greater heights in the future.

This hardcore Rec 'n' Accite has also been the COSSAC'n for BOSM 2K1. She is the only person to hold more than one post in the same year. She has recently developed an interest for learning Telugu "reasons unknown". You don't need an Asian colour card to choose colour, her nail polish collection will do the job. Never has there been a test in her Bitsian life for which she has not completed the course one week before the test, you ask her, she is done with the course. When his parents sent him off to Pilani, little did they expect their son to return after a semester sporting 'Karunanidhi' goggles, a Bits cap and a jerkin. 'Appearances are deceptive' holds good to this guy. Presenting a saintly look with a saffron dhoti and a beard ,he has great self confidence and determination. He is fond of the word "by choice". He could have made Mech directly but took Maths "by choice". Then he could have made EEE dual but made E&I dual "by choice". He is known for getting kelas. In schooldays he met a girl only to find that she was a Christian. Coming from an orthodox family he had to guss any further hopes. This hard core ART 'N DEEite was very reserved amidst girls initially though he wanted to hog the limelight. He had said to his friend back home that he had a girl friend in Bits, just to show that he is outgoing. Later he turned into a sociable guy. He attended Mech Sol class regularly for unknown reasons and got the notes xeroxed particularly from someone . His quote for life is "enjoy life and keep smiling".
