This guy also known as "Polesh" is very active and a hard core ghotter. He is so fond of Sachin, that he kept make-up's to watch his hero's play. We (wingies) suspect a driving force (probably from MB) behind him for sudden increase of his C.G. He always try to be 'Posh' but mostly fails. One should be careful when dealing with him, he is so dangerous that he makes you believe that 'Osama' is the president of US. He is also known as "peykesh". This cool, sensitive dude's ambition is to pursue higher studies and follow them up with research. Let's wish his wish comes true.

She's the 'ALL'WAYS girl- be it anything, it's ALWAYS Jyothi- be it excessive laughter-fear-shyness-T-advice-unnecessary bets- enthu for the 'never ever to happen' things and last but not the least, excessive voice! She is mindlessly mad and is easy to manipulate. She's a kid and an adult all rolled into one. She's one of the best things about being "HOME away from HOME"- for everyone. All set, she wants to do her research in Bio-informatics.

He is popularly known as "Borra, the great". The first thing that he does in the morning is to check the growth of his 'stomach'. He is also known as Bomber man. He always states that his bombs are stronger than nuclear ones. He has a Bitsian crush, to which he agrees but denies at the same time. This guy is so hard to understand and is very rigid in his decisions. He spends most of the time in conjuring statistics. He chats with 'Venki' (his deity) whenever he is free. He is so cool that he can freeze one. He aim is getting a good job and let's wish his dream come true.

This BASA bound guy claims himself to be a reincarnation of Einstein. This "Pharmacy" Student has a simple dream of establishing BASA (Buchi's Aeronautical ...) against NASA of US. This "Thriller Jaani" as called by wingies is so fond of UNIX that he spends most of the time in IPC exploring the network. This dream boy (just because he always dreams) thinks a lot more in his dreams of varied and weird nature ranging from 'ants to aeroplanes'. Hope this sensitive, God fearing, self confident, cool dude reach up to his hero's (Einstein) stature.

You would've heard about the Monalisa smile. But! Have you ever seen a "MONALISA GRIN"? Well if you haven't, its time to meet Indhuja. This raven haired girl, who loves to bask in the avenues of nostalgia, gently beckons you along the memory lane. Ever ready to enlighten us with her Pharma fundas this Pharma stud is passionate about music. She chimes with the blues and the surest way to her heart is through a touching tune. Behind that imperturbable exterior runs a river of deep sensitivity and caring. Once her friendship is secured you're assured of an ally who will stand by you in every walk of your life!

This guy was a zealous member of E.U. To the astonishment of many, this lad lived up to the tradition of his school in many an aspect. Suave and caring, he loves to teach and be taught. Clocklike as he was, he once stayed in bed for the whole of next day after having gone to bed after midnight (the only time in his life). Idealistic and humanitarian, he loves to make friends and others happy. The hardcore ghotu is gearing up to take the pharmaceutical world by storm.

This "Thriller Candidate" from Tirupati has used his political acumen to win many a votes and hearts too... He is a firm believer in the adage "Joy when shared is Trippled", which is probably why he is often found sharing a "Triple sundae" with three lovely ladies. A frank and outspoken guy with ample practical knowledge has helped his wingies in many a ways. With the experience that he gained by being a revolutionary NV sec and a popular Gen. Sec. he is all set to take over the world with a career in pharmacy.

This guy resembles an innocent kid but often visits "TEKKA". He is the guru for most of his wingies' "ACTIVITIES". He had a strong principle of bunking classes till his 2nd year but then he enjoyed continuous pracs in his 3rd year. To understand his words one must have had spent at least a day with him. He takes things lightly and on asking what his aim is?, he coolly replies "WHO KNOWS".

This baby of the wing has an innate lucid style while projecting her thoughts on a wide range of subjects. She follows Heisenberg's Uncertainty Principle, one can never predict her whereabouts. This kind, sensitive and innocent girl has lot of psenti for her family. With an average sleeping time of 12 hours per day, she managed to be one of the course toppers. Setting her aim to be a scientist, she discovers the most obvious things.

"Potti" is the name wingies call him with. He doesn't feel bad of his shortness. Instead he states the presence of 2 more guys in his class who are shorter than him. This "not so" enthued guy feels he is great at nothing, but always tries to carve out his skills. Having the only aim of increasing C.G, this guy has the principle of "See and Enjoy". Let's wish this sensitive, hardworking guy reaches his future aim of becoming a good researcher in pharmacy.

This guy is called bond (James bond747) by his friends, as he is found of reading detective stories and seeing detective movies, he also has the habit of predicting future (in case of movies and sometime in real life) which happens very rarely. He is almost 6ft in height, smart and the first impression is of a cool and intelligent guy. His hobbies are playing chess, reading books, watching and playing cricket and the last but not the least "bird watching". He tries to spend most of the time in dreaming his future. He believes in god and himself and his ability to handle things. He thinks that he is a great singer and often tries to impress others by his singing though he is not good at it.

This enthusiastic and ever-smiling Aries is diligent and dedicated. You can call him as Munnu or Sid. Fond of reading novels and listening to music, he forcefully claims that his mellifluous voice puts Mohd. Rafi to shame. He wants to direct a movie of his dreams and own a media company to rule this world. He is hopeless as far as galz are concerned. A crusader of the late re. bandwagon, he was assigned 316 Vyas and this was followed up by the humble offering of 280 Vyas, he let the CDC mania reign only in 285 Budh. His motto in life is "S, always there is success for every one...Just wait and watch"

She's the perfect solution- if you want someone to care, if you want someone to share, if you want to get dressed up, if you ever want a perfect hug, if you want entertainment, if you want to get your doubts cleared (not academic of course!). She is the girl that everybody knows yet no one really knows (not even her, we suppose!). She's just plain inspiration and desperation rolled into one. She's Archana soon to become Dr.Archana Brahmandam!

If you haven't known someone who was born in a village called Tuticorin in Tamil Nadu, was brought up in Delhi and did her 11th and 12th grade in Chennai and still doesn't know Tamil, English or Hindi, then now you know Induja Sridharan (alias budhu, kuttu, guddu, lately: BPharm girl). The transformer in Pilani uasually blows up because of her 10,000 volt smile. She is the cutest, sweetest, original and the most loving friend one can ever get. Her determination and perseverance for getting a doctorate in a pharmacy related field will surely take her places.
