Bodhya's law of ignorance states that if a member of the opposite sex ignores you on the road then that person loves you desperately, passionately and absolutely (proof : everyone ignores Bodhya). Bodhya's mastery over Hindi expletives is only exceeded by his lust for food. His wingies have a morbid fear when he comes along for treats coz his humble stomach becomes a bottomless pit on these special occasions. To all those who know him he will be fondly remembered as a master teller of hilarious jokes. This happy go lucky guy is serious about pursuing higher studies in the U.S.

THE FIRST YEARITES FEAR HER! Actually, so do her wingies especially when her mind gets down to work. An extremely good manager who manipulates people to do her share of work and claims the credit herself. Good looking (??) guys are a reason for an otherwise lazy Kopal, to attend classes. When the wing corridor is really dirty, we know she has finally cleaned her room. An active DOPY member and an inactive MMS senior, this feminist at heart plans to pursue her career in Finance.

"Puleeze...I promise I'll wake up after 2 minutes"...looking at those pleading eyes, you'd be forced to relent. And then the clock starts ticking...2 minutes...to 2 hours..."Swati wake up!" And there she retorts "nonsense, nuisance" and a string of verbal and physical blows are meted out to the poor, innocent soul who came to wake her up! The next morning she'll innocently say "Sorry yaar! I didn't mean it"!! But, there are other facets to Swati, she's a sharp, witty, intelligent and fun-loving girl, known for her infectious laughter and nightingale-like voice! We wish the BITS-girls' swimming team captain (since her first year) the very best for her future.

Anju's heart explodes when he sees the atom bomb in his CDC class. A short shy person by nature, he has but one concern in life, that regarding his spouse's height. He has been the subject of many a practical jokes by his wingies, but being a 'nice' guy he is always a good sport. Few of his achievements in BITS include 'Going to Audi for BOSM inaug and losing his way to ANC from VK. Big time ghotu, this guy is also an avid fan of Michael Jackson. Anju is confident that he would become CEO of an MNC.

Speak of the "Baski Champion of MB" and Nanditha's name comes first to your mind. Also known as Nandu alias G.G., this charismatic girl has won the heart of many MBites with her free comp service. Fundoo by nature and romantic by heart, she is all in all a gem of a person and a great friend. She loves day-dreaming, crashing, travelling and hogging especially chocolates, ice creams, etc.

The don of our wing can be considered as a man of hardness with a soft heart. He cares for everyone around and embraces them with his everlasting feelings of friendship. He is dominating at times and prefers to stay away from quarrels. His hard form hardly reflects his inner self. He is sweet, nice and quite an adorable person. He is a man with a steady mind and heart but is unable to convey his inner feelings to his princess. He loves rock music. He creates magic on the dance floor. He is very thoughtful of his future and his parents. He dreams of establishing a multinational software giant by the name of 'Reddysoft'. His sincerity and devotion to work are visualized in his efforts at backstage.

Fondly called Jawz, she is strong-willed, practical and fun-loving. She is capable of convincing you to go to hell and still making you feel that's the best place to be in. This perfect Taurean is a bundle of contradictions who would never cease to amaze you. Besides being an indispensable member of Controlz, she is also an active part of EDC. No description of her would be perfect without a mention of her flair for dressing, an amazing accent, her musical talents and her shopping bills that defy gravity. She is all set to make mark in the business world.

This "phobic" manager gets an attack of amnesia (forgets his wingies) whenever he is in the company of females (whom he came to know only after his PS-1). This dude can't stop blushing for hours even after a few minutes of flirting with his short D-mate or when tripped "Hema sha", sorry, Hamesha. He is the first to volunteer for any new venture be it EDC, CSD or blood donation and also the first to back out. This guy is very concerned about external cleanliness rather than internal (concerning his clothes!). We hope that the experience he has gained by being the wing accountant for two years may help him realize his dream to fly to the States.

Yugandhar! This management guy is one among those who believe in the truth that "everlasting happiness lies in sleeping". He is very sporting and always enjoys playing carom, cricket, T-T, comp-games...As far as we know, till now he has never missed a RAF movie even if he had seen it twice, thrice...This lazy guy is always late to his classes and the reason, we guess, might be to get noticed by all easily. Having a pretty good academic record, his ambition is to specialize in MBA(finance).

She is very compassionate and goes out of her way to help people. She has got a passion for shakes...Oops! Not milk shakes but Arab sheikhs! You can call her T-pot, T-jug or T-bucket. These words can't still explain the amount of tension she takes and makes her wingies take. She has an inherent capability to manage things. That's why she is able to manage being h-rep, MMS sec, and an Art 'n' Dee member without doing any injustice to either of them. She has a soft corner for cars also. You want to see her blush, just utter the alphabet "V". We wish this enthu pot all the luck in the world

Called the chocolate boy of BITS (don't mistake it for his looks), he was the secretary of PTM and an active backstageian. May appear innocent and shy but appearances can lie. A cricketer par excellence, he drove cricket balls and girls with guts and glory. His favourite pastime includes his 6-11 sessions and making rings out of thin air. Loves to socialize, joke and, more importantly, he loves to be loved. His turn ons: music-soft lights-rhapsodical thoughts.

This cool MMSite cracks her tests only if she wants to! Ghoting even during compres depends on her mood. If Joey's in her room then no movie's happening that's for sure! With 3 assignment submissions the next day, she still makes it a point to be in the Audi! She's frank, confident and unperturbed, whatever be the situation, a perfect manager in everything. Her room... that's the only thing she has to learn to manage. Her hobbies include skating and sketching. She plans to do her MBA in Finance.

Come your Birthday and experience the Sandeep Thomas effect. This match-winner of the footer team (incidentally the captain too!!) is an affable and sincere libran who made a metamorphosis from a grumpy male chauvinist to a charming Don Juan in his second year and a successful one at that too! This verbose chap gives you a real feel of the Dolby Digital effect in sound if you chance to get real "close" to him. Affectionately called Sykho for his adventures with freshers, he is an ardent quizzer who believes in "try, try and try again." This eloquent self-proclaimed Casanova with a perennial passion for dancing and music spent a major part of his life in BITS dreaming! (dreaming about what he calls 'creatures' of the opposite sex). A never say die Sagittarian with a deep allegiance for his department Controlz, he never fails to keep up the spirits of those around him. His favourite quote being 'she's a b****, but I like her', his only worry was that he could never find the right one who could match his drop dead looks. This lazy six-footer from DAV-M is known for his sarcasm & sarcasm alone. He is a regular visitor of IPC, though whom he mails "back home" remains a mystery till now. This ultra"mild(s)" self-proclaimed chauvinist seems to have found a lot of admirers, during his tenure as MASSCon publicity for Interface-2002. This entrepreneur is all set to take up his father's enterprise to higher levels.

Ash, as we all call her, is sincere and hardworking, and she is very particular about discipline. Her tastes are very simple; she enjoys listening to music, singing and writing poems. If you are looking for a company to 'freak out' then Ash is not the right person. She would rather prefer long solitary rides on her bike than a crowded and a noisy place.

This stingy guy, fondly called as 'Ramas' by his wingies, decided to go to ANC finally in his third semester after much compulsion from his wingies. He is the second genius to learn C-sharp in India after his master. He is very friendly and entertains everyone with his exuberance. When 'shikanji' was first offered to him, he refused to have it as he mistook it for a NV item ("chickenG"). He loves "Aishwarya" Rai very much. This lovable guy is also a very good singer and is all set to become the chief justice of India and to change his name to Ramas Baroocha.
