This Yokozona of BITS hailing from Hi-tech city of Trichy, is a computer stud (Sorry computer games stud!!) And enjoys to spend days gaming. This voracious reader always remembers to forget closing his own Post box. He constantly defends his position and holds a BITS record for highest Mess Bill of 4000 (not for a semester but for a month). This talented cricketer narrowly missed a place in TN team. His strong passion for BITS continues as he plans to persuade his higher studies in BITS.

Notoriously known for eve teasing... (And also Adam), this special package from Coimbatore is an explosive one (Handle with care!). Known for his callous disregard for any authority, in whatsoever form, this guy plays to the tune of back benchers. Jack of all trades (sports) but not a master of acads he is a real livewire. A class act, with one liner up his sleeve, this cool dude has steered clear of the practices of his very smoky surroundings. This guy plays the part of a true friend to the hilt.

Amit can resist anything but temptation, music and cars. This high spirited guy was a core member in Dept of Controlz. A dreamer, go-getter values his friends a great deal. He has many lofty dreams and ambitions which he will definitely realise.

"Here or there, rocking each square!" This guy enjoys almost everything that comes in his way, no matter how exciting, how boring, how tough or how sack it is. Stepping into IPC, don't forget that it's his territory, so don't take punga. This pure Indian likes everything Desi from food, cloths to even websites! His popularity in his discipline made him secretary twice! This friendly, sporty, cool but highly ambitious guy wants to earn lots of money with his brain, hard work and luck and wants to set up his own empire!

This guy is very well known for his misadventures. He is a dancer par excellence and dances his way out of the problems with his radiant smile. He goes to IPC minimum three times a day for reasons unknown, very fond of 'poem', his motto in life is 'when going gets tough, the tough gets going'. He plans to diverge into the field of software and make his fortune at Microsoft.

A hard core politician who knows how to manipulate things around him, his plans to go into petro business disappeared in thin air when his source of petrol and inspiration, a second yearite took him to be a caring senior. Life has blessed him with an unusual way of winning friends. He is bound to be successful in life as he plans to go into a business very apt for him- politics.
