Bridging the gap between Instru and CS this A8A7 stud is fondly called 'Sidy Baba' by his followers. This Brahmachari, shy guy always managed to get female companions as groupies for assignments. His life without classes is unimaginable. His never ending thirst for knowledge lets him maintain his CGPA at 9... (infinite decimal places). This smart chap speaks more with his facial expressions. This witty, intelligent and God fearing man is all set to turn the world of (soft + hard)ware topsy-turvy. His ultimate aim is to settle down by bagging the best job in a Top Company.

Tom Tom, Snowflakes, Honey Dew are just a few of her best friends so to say. Well! They all happen to be her soft dolls. With penchant for Music she is intelligent, confident and goes by her beliefs. Acads apart, she is a very devoted & passionate Backstagian. This stubborn yet sweet girl is known for her knack of finding Bakras to treat her. Given a chance she would probably shove her dislikes in to Outer Space. A strong patriot she hopes to work for a noble cause.

"Good things come in small packages"... an oft-heard statement, but not always true...this kiddo's the living testimony of the contradiction. Probably the youngest of the batch, but in no way the most docile, this "cat" of the wing is always seen stuck to all the funky western music. Her daily punctual trips to the Insti include going to every nook and corner except to the classes and finally to the hostel to settle down in front of the television. All set, she dreams to work with "Bill Gates" one fine day!

"Live to study and study to live", is her principle in life. This beauty conscious girl from Andhra with a "small" collection of Nivea 'n' L'oreal products speaks perfect Tamil (thanks to her wingies). The Finance Minister of the Riky wing is always c/o MCR when not being a BBC for herself. This sweet natured girl with a wonderful helping nature aims to settle in life with a high paid job.

This night bird of the wing doesn't mind putting night outs for worthy reasons like a novel (any novel). She is aspiring to go abroad for higher studies. She has got her passport, just waiting for her VISA. A hardcore Art 'n' Deeite, she is an ardent lover of tweeties also. She is also very crazy about posters. Not an inch of the wall in her room is free of posters. We wish her all the very best for a bright future.

This CHULT (Chom+Gult, from Raipur is one of the very few honest men, left on earth. A hardcore dopyite, though has won hearts of many MBites, has his own heart stolen in DOPY. This guy played the lead role in shaping the Gandhi Nite 2000. This chap, who entertains his wingies by his chult telugu, puts his heart into every small work he does. The Co-ord of Gandhi Nite 2000, the Co-ord of Incontrolz2k2 (APOGEE), a handsome dopyite and whatnot, leads everything to its peak.

This vibrant and high-spirited girl who has contributed wonders to cracking many a shows in bits is also a great one to get lost in her books and her dream castle and slip out of sight for ages. She exploits the multitude of talents bestowed upon her by venturing into everything ranging from martial arts to music to photography. Her affair with music for over 15 years has, besides winning her a 7th grade in piano and western classical singing, made her an asset to the music club. This confident and independent soul believes in standing on her own and recoils from situations which restrict her freedom. A perfectionist with a lot of determination coupled with a flair for management, she is bound to soar to the peaks of her career.

This soft spoken Mallu hailing from Chennai is probably the only person to have properly utilised his Centli stubs. He is one of the few persons who prefer to sail in "Thames" rather than in any vernacular language. He single-handedly contributes to the electricity bill keeping his room well lit just 24 hours a day. He chooses a few courses each sem and cracks them out of shape. Deceptive in appearance, this strongly built person is very soft spoken and deeply religious. A potential 'peace-maker' of the wing, he even claims to have made peace with God. His occasional outbursts of energy and spurts of enthu are well known. Where else can you find a guy who manages to break his hand doing something as trivial as banging his sidee's door to wake him up? He is a wonderful guitarist as well. Refli is his niche during the day, by night he retires to his guitar and soothes the wing with his soft tones in the dead of the night. This guy is highly systematic and has a time fixed for anything and everything in his life. His parents advised him to stay a bachelor at BITS. So he set his preferences high ... nothing short of Madame Dixit but when she preferred Nene for a title to Savkoor our hero was heartbroken. With an uncanny way of ghoting for tests, he uses the newspaper as a letter pad and fills it with the worst technical gibberish. A dedicated NSS worker, you can enjoy his company except when he decides to entertain you with his wisecracks and it is then that you run for your life with all you've got.

Scanning all the notice boards of the institute inside out, a transfer to Electronics and Instrumentation in the first year, keeping in touch with the latest worldly developments—this is what it takes to be Easwar. This very silent person hails from a family of academic excellence. Very adept at playing tennis, this guy has been held in awe by many for his systematic and meticulous approach to whatever task he undertakes. Though nobody knows what his future plans are, wherever he goes, he is sure to be the best.

The short haired great ghotu popularly known as bhai describes our Archi perfectly. Her Bitsian life has been greatly influenced by the film Sholey. She's very independent by nature and loves to do things in her own different way. Very often you'll hear her saying "Mutlab ki hud hoti hai ...". Her first love in BITS is Jhankar. This fun loving and adventurous girl is very ambitious and seeks a lot of name and fame in future.

'Wings are lonely, dark and deep but Chandy has promises to keep Andmiles to walk before he sleeps and miles to walk before he sleeps...' This obsessive compulsive walk-a-holic has craziness oozing out him. Chandy has aspirations of emulating Michael Jackson, his loony stunts has all his wingies in fits of laughter. However his moves on the chess board are not to be taken lightly. This BOSM chess captain holds the distinction of winning every single chess game in BITS. He plans to stay in India and settle in life... And about himself he says- "Fly like a butterfly, sting like a bee"

Want to define huge? Here's the guy who will define it. This fund bank from sedawkters surprised no one when he made a transfer to E&I from Civil. An ardent fan of Harry Potter, his enthu is infectious and well known. A jack of all trades, anything interesting in any topic finds his attention. A budding quizzzer, he has made to the finals of almost all Bitsian quizzes. His grasping power is amazing. A fan of weird quotes, he aspires to a "spiritual" life in Himalayas after a stint at a job for 5-10 years! Above anything else, he will always be known as nice, patient, unassuming and lovable guy and a great friend

Sruju...Sruju...Srujana...Srujana... This popular girl is always wanted in her wing or at the gate. Her room is well-known for lachcha sessions and get togethers in spite of which she keeps it perfectly neat. She is extremely disciplined and puts a lot of effort into whatever she does whether it is working for Andhra Samithi or for her assoc. She manages to have a 99.9% attendance and believes and strictly follows the motto "Never ever give up". We wish her all luck, to fulfil her every dream.

Is it the WTC? Is it the sears tower? No it is Johnny. People really have to look up to him. Leading member of the Election Commission he was the nightmare of Bitsian politicians. Star forward of the Bitsian football team and a great athlete, he always had a place in any sport. This astounding genius could have become a doctor but he chose not to. This habitual somniloquist scares passers by. "Nothing is impossible for John ", he is sure to excel in any field he lands up in.

This sincere, gentle and smart chap is everyone's favourite. His innovative ideas, managerial skills and style of doing things have had many girls go bonkers over him but this guy has saved his heart for his "Special One" back home. He is an all-rounder in the making with his interests in music and literature. This guy boasts of being the greatest bathroom singer in the world, and to be frank, you can never listen to him. He often says "Life is a challenge" and aims to pursue an MBA in one of the IIMs.

This dark and handsome machismo is a guy with very soft and emotional heart. He has impressed many a girl with his candid self. After having taken an Instru-transfer he struggles to find time for studies as he keeps himself busy with pols and pull-ups. This die-hard Rock-fan sees a CEO in him in the near future.
