Computer Science Engineering

The study of computers, including their design, operation, and use in processing information. Computer science combines both theoretical and practical aspects of engineering, electronics, information theory, mathematics, logic, and human behavior. Aspects of computer science range from programming and computer architecture to artificial intelligence and robotics.

Avinash...What A Guy He Is! Just see his dual. If you have ever heard of a fundu guy like Newton or Einstein and haven't seen him so far you can see him...he is the only guy in our batch (BIG BULLS) who got a very good rank in IIT and the only guy who made 10 in all the semesters so far...and is sure to have a pass-out CG of 10. Don't be ever mistaken by thinking that he is only ghotu, he plays cricket with us, watches every movie we see and even is the best analyser of any game...he has very good observation regarding girls "never speak with them, they might be dangerous"...

This 'Majnu' from Jammu and Kashmir will never be found without a smile on his face. He loves the square root function, especially on his ID. This gregarious personality has the dubious distinction of being rebuked as the 'Most uncultured Cul-Sec' by the Chief Warden. As a great organizer, he has been an active participant in BITSAA, PCR, PCA and what not. A painter by choice and a flirt by profession, he is one of the Gods Greatest Victims and plans to pursue higher studies.

Rohini, better known as “Punjab Di Princess”, is a wonderful person at heart. She's bubbly, cute, innocent, sweet and “fundoo” to the core. Her cute and naughty ways bring a smile on every face. The only thing she has preserved right from her ragging period till her psenti sem is her “cry baby” image (especially due to homesickness). Though she's doing Computer Science, Electronics and Aeronautics have been her all time favourites. All set to go for higher studies, we wish her a very bright future.

This mobile tower of Pisa is forever found banking more, for sustaining his sentimental whirlpool of ostentatious temperamental swings, on the fair sex. A gentle Goliath, harbouring on the brink of all that is serene and subtle, he has outshone many a poetic talents from the firmament of WINGian literature. Dire straits or a jocund company, his holiness carries an expression which has stood the test of time. Legends of the yore are replete with surfeit of examples that after loads of pensive deliberation, an unHOLY alliance was zeroed on. But still he manages to have more sympathisers in MB alone than in all the guy's Bhawans put together due to the current he generates. He wants every "U" to drive him crazy but "U" is not the one who has done it before.

"Handwriting is the reflection of a one's personality". This girl is a living example for this. She is as transparent as a crystal and straightforward that she does not play the game of hide and seek. She is very dedicated to her friends. She likes to freak out, go for long walks and has an intense passion for music especially for the Hindi oldies. She derives immense pleasure in the company of her near and dear ones. She has got some artistic skills too. She aims to pass out with a good job and is eager to know what future has in store for her.

"OBMAX"-One word to describe this chubby boy to any Bitsian, is best known to crack whole of the test series and is nightmare for his batch mates . This cool, unruffled approachable guy is a typical "Gujju" with a perfect 10...nothing more nothing less. Shy about his crushes, this academically focussed guy has great possession towards platform independence. He spares his leisure time in gaming. A very popular guy among girls keen in helping MBites to workout their assignments or any problem for that matter, is very confident about his spirits and loves kite-flying with gal pair. Butter in Need is "Gujju" in deed, this maxboy has MAXed courses like sleeping and treating also. He, also one of the GodsGreatestVictims, wishes to pursue his higher studies in theoretical computer science.

BITS transforms a person- a look at her proves this. Then, a 'ripe-fruit', now has become a beauty conscious, "knowledgeable" and a queen of Conties...Known for her enthusiasm, people may be ready to believe that she was born with a mike in her throat. Come Sunday, Vishni Sahasranamam (for reasons unfathomed) and a visit to her local guardian's (Diro) house is definitely on the cards. With her flair for "Telugu" this Hardcore Riky with a million dollar smile has a long way to go!

One of GodsGreatestVictims, this guy is well known for his prowess in losing calculators and locking himself in his room. Having survived the Latur earthquake he is equally effective when it comes to cracking his courses. Born on a New Year's day he seems to be ahead of his times and only his mouth works faster than his mind. What he says might be sometimes unbelievable but he is always ready to 'show you the figures'. An intellectual sort of character he has little time for frivolous activities such as attending classes and this is reflected in his near perfect grade card. This hard working and amiable Maharashtrian is determined to pursue his higher studies abroad.

Smile, without it you can never see her. Her love for mathematics has made her involve too much in 'Jacobian' principles. She thinks that, she is too cute for words but what can you say we only know what our silence means. She usually mentions 'No guy is worth IT'. Who knows what 'it' is? Her regular attendance to classes has made her an 'abnormal' Art n Deeite. A caring devoted friend we hope that she reaches out for the stars of her dreams. It is said that the speed of mind is greater than anything else. The veracity of this statement becomes evident when one observes this zealous girl. Her racing mind is at times too eager, too dreamy and too sensitive. She can easily enkindle the drooping spirits of a crestfallen person with her highly soothing advices. This bubbling girl is very understanding and compassionate. Gayatri is all set to do her higher studies.

Her exam, her tension, your exam still her tension! Aptly christened 'T-Pot', this girl worries about anything and everything under the sun. Sincere, hardworking, hardly systematic- but with amazing results, BITS would have seen the minimum possible change in her. Her ardent aversion to English movies, whether seen by her or anybody else and her impeccable shyness speaks for it all. She's all set to start putting "T" about her future opportunities.
