This introvert with a beautiful voice is notorious for her puns while talking, commenting about everyone in her reach. Though she normally appears calm and sedate, in her case- "appearances are deceptive". She is extremely neat which makes many other rooms look like a pig-sty. Come Diwali or any other special occasion and she is the 'person-in-demand' because of her saree tying skills. This civil-management combo is all set to succeed with flying colours.

This health conscious guy named as the "Prince of Patna" works out five times a day, diets with oily food and spends the rest of his time in brushing his teeth. Stuck in a deadly love-triangle he is confused whether to pursue his "Worship" or continue his "DG"tal mania. An ever budding guitarist, a C Programming stud, a hard core Backstagian, he plans to remain a bachelor and dreams to conquer the future with an electric guitar and the SECOND page of New York Times.

Smart and suave, this stud civilite from Gujarat has won many a hearts. A cheerful guy, managing people and events has always been his forte, be it Vyas Nite 2k or APOGEE-2k2, both of which were coordinated by him. A very good T.T and Tabla Player he is the ideal "Dream Boy" for most of the girls. He has a soft corner for everything that is local. Whenever he is not busy with Sponz, BITSAA or photography, he can be found humming the tune from his favourite song "Rim jhim Rim Jhim, Rum Jhum "Rum Jhum...." This guy aspires to follow in his parents' footsteps by pursuing a career in Civil engineering.

Chandrasekhar alias "chandu" was born just to entertain others. His day begins with lunch at redi and ends late at night in ANC. Despite being a mess-com, he never eats in the mess and ends up with a redi bill equal to the mess bill. We guess, this great enthued guy is the only BITSian who utilizes his comp 100%. He is very much interested in electrical works but unfortunately, he became a civil engineer. He has great interest in games and shows enthu to play always (especially cricket) but always ends up losing. If Mc Grath is no.1 in bowling, he is even before him.

She's fondly called Koko or Murrah. She's a perfect libran blessed with patience and tolerance. Her dialogues sometimes leave us confused as to which language she spoke in. She coins new names for her wingies and finally she's the only one who uses them. She's the only BITSian from IIT! She attends classes regularly because there is no place in her room...there are too many things lying around. This explains why she cracks her courses. The joint coordinator of Civil, APOGEE 2002 her hardwork and perseverance have made it a success. She plans to pursue her higher studies in Disaster Management.

Don't be fooled by this deceptively innocent looking Konkani. His tendency to launch into lengthy explanations of complex civil engineering funda's remains unchanged by the fact that none of his audience is actually listening to him. A diligent and hardworking guy, he is the only one who does his course assignments honestly only to give them all to the rest of the copying junta. PS- 1 for this guy has been more of a social experience and less of an education. An eternal enthusiast, Shenoy plans to serve his nation by taking up a job.

This baby-faced civilite, sweetly called "Gaarala-Babu", leads truly a nocturnal life. Attending classes is not his cup-of-tea. He adds a new dimension to the definition of simplicity: he never troubles his dhobi; he happily wears a pair for more than a week without trouble. Bathing is a distant proposition for this guy: he'll do it only when his wingies start calling him a "Skunk". The secretary of the Civil Assoc. of his batch, this guy aims to marry a rich girl and settle down happily.

This Java God & monkey island (guest appearance) popularly (rather ... only) known as Apple, once managed to find fault with Patrick Naughton's book (courtesy: google). Software is his forte (de noir), hardware his nightmare (white). His computer shows it to him at least thrice a week. One fine day his CD drive gave up with a big jerk, given his unjust demands to play whatever? Whenever?. His self belief- "I can play "anything" on comp, armed with cheat codes and still lose gracefully"- height of self-actualisation- hrpp. His red jerkin that he wears to avoid Rayleigh's scattering lends credentials to his nickname. This variegated nerd SEDAWKTER hopes to become a la Austin Powers.

This tall, deft, elegant girl is crazy about being posh and is better known as a linguist. She is always the first to go to the mess but the last one to come out and still keeps saying "I am hungry yaar". Her contribution to the civil assoc as a joint sec is remarkable. She has an ardent passion for English language, spectes and of course TDH guys. One can find her spending hours in the ref... "Sleeping and not ghotting". She hopes to pursue a decent job and keep her parents happy

This vivacious, posh, waivy haired girl with bright, large eyes may at first glance look like a Keralite but she speaks Telugu so fluently that she may be mistaken to be a "Gult". It is, however, difficult for anyone to guess that her native is Rajasthan! A good dancer and singer, she also has good drawing and poetic skills. She is an ardent fan of "SHAHRAUKH". "WORK TO LIVE AND LIVE TO WORK" is this hardworking girl's principle. She is strongly determined, confident about herself and makes herself cheerful. She is very friendly and gives more importance to friendship.

This short-statured, short tempered guy, is too conscious of his charm though his wingies doubt if he has any! This hasty smart "jockey", found a sudden craze for ducks during his P.S-I. This impatient, "yo-bugger", has the amazing talent of speaking the wrong things at the right time. His few unsuccessful encounters with girls have made him curse every time he spots a couple. Jokes apart, he is one person worth having alongside during trouble. Following his brother's footsteps, this enthusiastic chap is all set pursue his career abroad.

This garrulous and exuberant dame can even melt rocks in her own convincing manner. Nature made a compromise on this cutie pie's size to provide her with the longest of tongues. This level headed optimist has a never-ending obsession for 'tweety dolls'. A highly patient, pragmatic and organized Cancerian, this chirpy enthusiast plans things in advance and is a very good critic. Juvi, a fervent PTM Backstager and an ex-PTM ExComm member, will definitely gain many accolades in life.

She thinks she's a very simple and modest person and has requested the wing to write not more than two lines about her, but, surely, she wants all good things written (which we won't do!). This Miss Aishwarya Rai of the wing bathes once in a blue moon whatever part of the year it might be. This tension pot keeps fretting over her test series but cracks them up in the end. Dearly called 'Kosumathi' she'll buzz through the community of Civil Engineers proclaiming that she CAN do whatever she wills!

This tall, lean, fair guy has leadership qualities in his blood. You gotta problem...just go to him...he is always there to solve it. This guy never sleeps until he achieves his goal. He is very straight forward but at the same time takes the utmost care not to hurt others. He is very narrow minded and doesn't know what he does when is at the peak of his anger. This die-hard fan of Madhuri likes gossiping, politics, his own country and dislikes dishonesty, dishonesty and dishonesty.

This Nepali gorkha look alike is the DJ of his wing. The only problem is that he plays the same song the whole day for days on end...'RHTDM', 'Haryana ka Nirvana' and 'I Wanna be your Underwear' should bring fond memories. This guy is mortally scared of dogs; he'd never go to the mess alone for fear of being ambushed by puppies. He manages to bring supplies of home grub for the whole semester (personal use only). His room is well qualified to be a 3 star (except for the stink of a dead baboon). This enthusiastic civilite plans to pursue higher studies in GIS and remote sensing.

This polite girl is sincere and hardworking. She is called a big "T-POT" in her wing. She is a good classical singer and a fan of colonial cousins. Her peculiar way of studying is accompanied by body movements. Her hobbies include watching T.V. She is capable of humming good background music for "Dil- Se Re" and "Chaiyya Chaiyya". She regularly reads all the notices. This talented girl is on the whole friendly and helpful. Regarding her future plans, she wants to do M.S in environmental engineering after her graduation in Civil Engineering.
